

Railways Maze

Walter Burley Griffin included railway and tram lines in his plans for Canberra. There were going to be trams through the whole city, and a grand General Station in Russell for trains from Sydney and Melbourne. Unfortunately the railways and trams were deleted from his plan in 1950.

In this maze, find out which locomotive was the first one to arrive at the Canberra Station in 1914. You can also visit the Canberra Railway Museum in Kingston, and see these trains for yourself!
